Products and Services

Pavoid Bhe is a custom T-shirt sublimation company that offering customers a choice of imagery (outs or theirs) to apply to the front or back of a shirt.

Sublimation is a process using heat to transfer (embed) ink into a fabric surface such as a shirt. The alternative method of creating custom shirt designs is called silk-screening, a process in which a screen is made with an image and that image is transferred onto a shirt. Because set-up costs are high silk-screening is not cost effective for small number production runs. Another disadvantage is that silk-screening applies a thin layer of ink to the surface the shirt inhibiting breathability. The sublimation process avoids this problem since the ink is not coating the fabric's surface, but rather, is embedded in the fabric. Only with recent technological advances has sublimation become cost effective in small production runs.

While other vendors are able to offer sublimation in single production runs, their computer based sublimation process produces lower image quality. Pavoid Bhe takes sublimation one step further by producing the graphic images at a higher resolution than other existing technologies. Through a strategic relationship with other major printing company., Pavoid Bhe has access to their new prototype sublimation high resolution printer giving Pavoid Bhe a significant advantage.

Pavoid Bhe will offer custom sublimation mainly on T-shirts, but will have other shirt styles available. Customers can choose from traditional cotton-blend shirts or all natural fiber cotton shirts.

Customers can then choose from pre-existing graphics or custom artwork. The pre-existing graphics are chosen from an extensive catalog. Pavoid Bhe has developed strategic relationships with several companies that offer a wide range of graphic images. The relationships allow Pavoid Bhe to list the other company's graphics within their catalog thereby significantly options. These images can be viewed and ordered online, providing customers with flexibility and convenience. Pavoid Bhe will have a comprehensive Website that will allow ordering a customer's home, or where ever they may be. Additionally, Pavoid Bhe will have a computer kiosk in the store front as an in-store catalog.

Pavoid Bhe will also offer custom artwork or graphic options for sublimation. The customer may bring in a graphic or may use Pavoid Bhe 's sub-contracted artist to realize their vision. Pavoid Bhe 's artist can take a customer's pencil drawing or even articulated thoughts and turn them into a new design.

Delivery Timetable

For t-shirts and most other products, standard delivery within Metro Manila area is 4-7 days, and rush orders are delivered in 3 days - and that's "REAL" days, not just business days! (Rush delivery is pushed back one day for orders placed on Sundays and holidays.) That's from the time you place your order to the time it arrives at your door - not just the shipping time. For specialty products, delivery days are noted in the product catalog. An additional fee is charged for rush orders to cover expedited processing of the art, blank items, printing and shipping. It may cost a little more, but Pavoid Bhe will get it to you in time for you.
